

Religion and World views Intent statement Reviewed May 2026

At Catton Grove Primary School our pupils are Theologians! Our curriculum is designed to enable our pupils to flourish as well as become informed, knowledgeable and independent citizens. To celebrate our diverse and rich community and to allow pupils to identify connections with, and show pride in, their own values and beliefs.

We want our pupils to be inquisitive in nature and to be able to reflect on information with respect and acceptance. By the end of year 6, they will be able to demonstrate an excellent understanding of topics linked to the nature, truth and value of religion and make individual and informed conclusions after gathering information around the subject.

We want all of our ambitious pupils to be inspired to study Religion and World Views and fully appreciate the importance of the knowledge they will acquire, which will support them as adults in a continuously changing world. In order to do this, we will equip children, not only with the minimum requirements outlined in the Norfolk syllabus, but with the skills and awareness that prepares them for these opportunities, responsibilities and experiences.

Our curriculum is designed to cover many major World Religions and World Views, ensuring strong and direct links to all children.

Using an appropriate progression of lessons across the school, we cover a wide breadth of Religious and philosophical study in order to deepen the pupils ability to hear, understand and discuss different values and beliefs.

We are active in initiating dialogue with parents. We understand that in order to ensure that all children have the opportunity to be involved in the creative experiences our curriculum provides, we need to ensure that parents are well informed regarding how that curriculum is designed and delivered.

We understand that our pupils come to us with a wide range of experience and expertise therefore we have developed a curriculum that ensures no child is left behind in their insights into aspects linked to Religion and World Views. We understand that each child is unique and will bring different strengths to the subject.
